This DLC is probably some of my favorite stuff so far, the addition of a lot of houses that are just finished on the outside is great leaving me able to pick and choose what I want to design.

Literally the only thing I find out of place on this DLC is it is missing a water texture so you'll need the Landscapes DLC for that. But honestly the two go hand in hand so its hardly a back breaker, just something curious.. You see my money? Take it. Take it all. These guys are great, and make an awesome, awesome product. It's gotten to the point where I'll buy basically every DLC Dragom puts out. This, combined with the landscapes DLC will get you just about everything you need to make 90% of the maps you need - with a little creativity. I just wish I hadn't spent two weeks painstakingly crafting a Yartar harbor map, because this is clearly the better way to go. Thanks for making my work redundant Dragom!
